Poverty and its Effect on Learning for SRPS

May 3, 2018 4:30PM-7:30PM

This seminar explores the effects of poverty and other socioeconomic issues, on student learning. Focus will be centered on six types of poverty: generational, situational, absolute, relative, urban and rural. The training will engage participants in various activities that will assist them in understanding how to effectively work with students from low socioeconomic status. During the program participants will discuss and examine how poverty affects learning, the importance of building relationships, connecting with the community, and creating a classroom environment that promotes learning through research-based practices.

Participants will experience what it is like to have a disability and learn strategies for improving student learning and behavior. This training is offered through a collaboration of RTC and NYSUT ELT and made possible through funding from the NYS Department of Labor. A minimum of 15 is required to run the training.
